Connecting Teachers & Researchers Across Europe

<https://eu4dual.education/>

EDITORIAL

Welcome to the second issue of the EU4Dual Teachers & Researchers Network Newsletter. Since our first edition, collaboration across the EU4Dual has continued to grow, with new initiatives supporting research cooperation, teaching innovation, and mobility across partner universities. In this issue, we highlight recent collaborative project successes, emerging European funding opportunities, and upcoming events where researchers can connect and develop new ideas together. Let's keep building this momentum – one shared idea, one joint project, and one inspiring connection at a time.

On behalf of the editorial team,

DI Dr Arrate Alonso Gómez (Mondragon Unibertsitatea)

EU4Dual RESEARCH COLLABORATION

Over the past cycle, EU4Dual partner universities have strengthened their collaboration through numerous joint research proposals addressing the EU4Dual Grand Challenges. Institutions worked together on projects exploring topics such as digital transformation, hydrogen strategies, circular economy, inclusive education, and innovative learning ecosystems. Several initiatives secured funding through programmes such as Erasmus+, Interreg Atlantic Area, and POCTEFA, highlighting the EU4Dual's growing capacity to attract competitive international funding.
